CHRISTINE ARNOTTY

At 20, she is a woman with a past, and heiress to a vast French fortune. Anouk has lived her life waging war against the complacent world of wealth and privilege, against a father who has blackmailed her into marriage. She uses shocking behavior as a weapon, and finally meets her match in Washington, D.C., in the person of Steve Dale, a Vietnam veteran who battles her on her own terms until all defenses crumble. A daring, provocative, irreverent novel, by the author of I Am 15 and I Don't Want to Die.
