

4 Contemporary authors"
vol. 9-10

BALINT, Michael 1896-

PERSONAL: Born December 3, 1896; married Alice Szekely-Kovacs, 1923 (died, 1939); married Enid Abu, 1953; children: J. A. (son). Education: University of Budapest, M.D., 1920; University of Berlin, Ph.D., 1924; University of Manchester, M.Sc., 1945. Home and office: 7 Park Sq. West, London N.W.1, England.

CAREER: Hungarian Psycho-Analytical Institute, Budapest, Hungary, training analyst and lecturer, 1926-39; Budapest Clinic of Psycho-Analysis, Budapest, Hungary, organizer and director, 1931-39; British Psycho-Analytical Society, London, England, training analyst and lecturer, 1939; medical director and psychiatrist of child guidance clinics in England, 1942-47; Tavistock Clinic, London, England, consultant psychiatrist, 1950-61; University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, Cincinnati, Ohio, visiting professor of psychiatry, 1956-; University College Hospital, London, England, honorary clinical assistant, department of psychological medicine, 1961-; Member: British Psychoanalytical Society.

WRITINGS: Primary Love and Psycho-Analytic Technique, Hogarth, 1952, 2nd edition, revised, Tavistock Publications, in press; The Doctor, His Patient and the Illness, International Universities Press, 1957, 3rd edition, revised and enlarged, in press; Problems of Human Pleasure and Behaviour, Liveright, 1957; Thrills and Regressions, International Universities Press, 1959; (with wife, Enid Balint) Psychotherapeutic Techniques in Medicine, Tavistock Publications, 1961. More than seventy scientific papers in English, American, French, Hungarian, and German publications. Editor, "Mind and Medicine Monographs," Tavistock Publications.

SIDEWORKS: Books have been translated into German, French, Hungarian, Italian, and Spanish.

* * *

PRIMARY LOVE AND PSYCHO-ANALYTIC TECHNIQUE. By Michael Balint. 288 pp. New York: Liveright Publishing Corporation. $5.95.

1953 aug.

