

Eckhardt, Tibor

Biography in:
Internat. Who's Who,
London, 1939, Page 319.

BIBLIOGRAPHY in English:

Wolfe, Henry, C.: The German Octopus, N.Y.,
1938, Doubleday-Doran. In chapter:
"Nem, nem, soha!". Very favorable to E.

Hungarian Quarterly, Spring, 1938. Long and favorable article about E., with full page portrait. Mar.-Spring (74-81)

Rendy, L.: A Hungarian Diplomat, Living Age,
1940, June, 351-3

Szebenyei, Joseph: Reply to foregoing,
Living Age, July 1940, 498-500.

New Yorker, Nov. 29, 1941: Tibor, the terrible.
(E's dueling career.)

Schultz, Ignatz: Budapest's fake mission,
Nation, Sep. 27, 1941, 276-7.
Discussion: Nov. 29, P. 551,
Oct. 25, P. 410.

Eckhardt and the State Department, Nation,
1941 Oct. 4, 295-6.

Pribichevitch, Svetozar: Free Yaugolsavia speaks, 1941.

Klecanda, Vladimir, Prof.: About Eckhardt, in News Flashes from Czechoslovakia,
Release No. 116, Jan. 19, 1942.

Montgomery, John F.: Long letter, favorable to E., in: Amerikai Magyar Népszava, N.Y., daily, in English and Hungarian, Jan 30, 1942.

Daro, Michael (pseud.): Report on Hungary. (According to "Personal and otherwise" dept. of magazine, part of article was furnished by E.) Harper's Magazine, Feb., 1942, 308-313.

Slovaks of America against E. In: News Flashes from Czechoslovakia, Release No. 118 (Rev. J. J. Pelikan) Feb. 2, 1942.

Nadányi, Paul: The "Free Hungary" movement, N.Y., 1942. Favorable to E., without forgetting his political past. Author is editor of "Amerikai Magyar Népszava" daily, N.Y., 63 pages.

Balaton, Pál: Whitewashing the Free Hungarians. (About Nadányi's pamphlet) Central European Observer, June 26, 1942, P. 205.

Angel, Walter: Tibor Eckhardt, a fascist in disguise. Central European Observer, London, 1942 Jan. 9, 1942, P. 13.

Balaton, Pál: Tibor Eckhardt's mission. First of Horthy's paratroops in America. Central Eur. Observer, London, 1942 May 29, Pp. 169-70.

Klecanda, Vladimir: Horthy's people at home and abroad, Central European Observer, London, 1941, P. 340.

Vambery, Rustem: "Free Hungary" Movement in U.S. New group against Horthy regime. Liberation from Nazism not enough. Voice of Freedom, New York, Dec., 1941.

Eckhardt bibliography, 2.

Vámbéry, Rustem: The Hungarian problem.
Pamphlet, 48 pages, New York, 1942.

Vámbéry, Rustem:

Foreign Affairs, ,1942