

1970

JOHN GROTH'S WORLD OF SPORT

Paintings by John Groth
Text by Pat Smith

Illustrated with 43 paintings in full color, also two color and black and white.

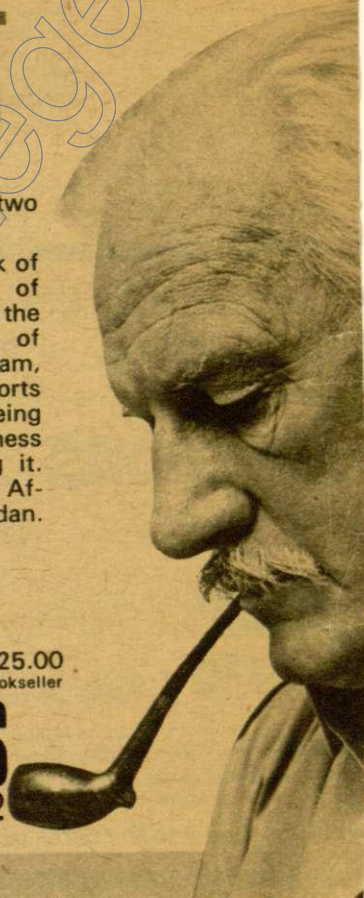

John Groth has always been drawn into the thick of things, to the foreign and exotic, to centers of action. His trend-setting work for Esquire in the thirties, his unforgettable combat reportage of World War II, Korea and more recently Vietnam, his wanderings in search of unusual sport for Sports Illustrated, all reflect both his passion for being where the action is and the happy appropriateness of his vital, spontaneous style for delineating it. A vibrant record of sport around the world from Afghanistan to Ireland and from Alaska to the Sudan.

Over 100 illustrations accompany the lively text that explains what the different games are all about.

160 pages 12 x 9 $22.50 (to 12-31-70) thereafter $25.00
At your bookseller

WINCHESTER PRESS

460 Park Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10022

1970

John Groth's World of Sport

By John Groth
host by Pat Smith

Groth illustrative technique

Number 22, 1970

A gr
Loo
Gar
Rev
At a

AKO... VIT... S... SZEGED.HU