

HARASZTHY Augustin

Schorer Mark: a house too old, NY 1935, Regional-Hitchcock, P. 305

A novel about people in Sacton, Wis. (in reality, South City, a town founded by Haraszthy and originally named "Haraszthy")

In the first 19 pages the author relates the beginning of the town.

He gives Haraszthy the name KARASZCY and his cousin
Alasz "KAHLANSZ"

The first chapter is "Before the beginning" The legend 1835-1880

The story itself doesn't concern
ab. H. or his descendants