Louis Jambor

The varied interpretations of religious art by Louis Jambor, contemporary artist, rank with the finest work of masters of past centuries. His sensitive portrayals of Christ have been acclaimed by European and American critics.

A native of Hungary, Jambor was born in Nagyvarad in 1884. He first studied art in Budapest, and continued his studies in Germany and Italy, concentrating on religious art.

Out of this rich association and study of Christian art before the world wars, Jambor acquired that comprehensive knowledge and feeling for religious subjects that find expression in his canvases today.
