Finck, Henry T: my adventures in the golden age of music 1926 rev. 4 - Funk, Wagnalls
(about Seidl)

"my wife was for several years a member of his class; she did not play for him, but she jotted down his wise and witty remarks" etc.

Edwin Hughes found among J's manuscripts a letter in which Liszt named J. as his successor and heir P. 281-82

(Moritz Rosenthal is the most brilliant of J's pupils)
