

DRY STICKS,

FAGOTED

BY

WALTER SAVAGE LANDOR.

✓
EDINBURGH:

JAMES NICHOL, 104 HIGH STREET.

LONDON: JAMES NISBET AND CO.

© M.DCCCLVIII.

7/29/1924
Ticket:

W. S. LANDOR TO L. KOSSUTH,
PRESIDENT OF HUNGARY.

AT your gate I lay my fagot of Dry Sticks, and go away. I offended you by attempting to bring Fortune thither, whom I never solicited to favor me personally. My zeal was inconsiderate; but perhaps it ought to have offended less that lofty pride to which alone I ever was obsequious. Permit me to offer the only amends I can: permit me to show my respect and reverence toward the man who has worthily occupied a higher station than any one in this country can attain.

The eloquence of Milton and of Demosthenes failed in the support of their cause; the same cause and the same eloquence as yours. Supply me with your english, and I may be able at last to express my veneration of your virtues.

AD COSSUTHUM ET BEMUM.

GENS clara ripas Danubii colit,
 Semper fidelis regibus, imperj
     Haud semper æqui ; nunc resurgit
     Impatienter avita virtus.
 Quicunque laudes diceret omnium
 Quot extiterunt nobilioribus
     Ibi triumphis, ante parcas
     Praferet Historum amenas :
 Vix ipsa largis claudere paginis
 Sperabit omnes. Huniadum unicum
     Inter trecentos Musam amanter
     Ausoniæ pavans sequetur.

At non minores jam video aggredi
 Regem insolentem ; jam video suprà
     Victoriam cristas volare,
     Sistere jam video, duorum.

Cossuthe primus jure locus tibi
 Hunc imperito milite cernitur
     Et cive, nec longe remotum
     Adspiciunt equitare Bemum.

Valete, fluctus clara nigros super,
 Fraterna belli sidera ! gloriam
     Qui contulerunt, dent utriusque
     Munera Dii meliora pacis !

IN IMAGINEM BATTHIANII.

COSSEUTHO minor uno inter omnes
 Omni Istri regione, Batthiani !
 Vultus obtueor tuos dolenter.
 Sed qui sculptor imaginem excitavit ?
 Idem qui Periclem Jovemque finxit,
 Et domus decus Atticae Minervam ?
 Quali morte, vir inclyte, occidisti !
 Dedit carnifici nimis pudicum
 Falsi Cæsaris impudica conjux.