

K. and Amer. politics Alex Va Gazette 1852
Jan 10
Calif

"K's companions are not as discreet as he is, although K is not to be blamed for the promulgation of opinions by two of his followers in NY, the public will think it strange, that foreigners, just landed on our shores, and to whom an asylum from oppression has been given, should begin to talk about our "compromise laws" the extradition of our slaves, and reforms of our land laws."

There is a degree of impertinence in this which will be resisted by our people. -- Impudence and forwardness will create aversion & disgust."

(This is about Gyrman's venture in German-language journalism)