Pontasri

In 1777

in Philadelphia,

tendering his services to Congress.
Didn't wait for decision, but at once joined the army.

11 Sep 1777 - The day of battle of Brandywine he was at Washington's side, with Lafayette and others. When enemy pressed back the right wing, P. urged W. to give him command of his bodyguard, about 30 horsemen, retards the advance of enemy etc.

W. appreciated his services and recommended him to Congress
