

ADLER Vincent pianist
composer
1826-1871

Adler, Vincent. 1826-1871.

A young composer who lived in Paris and belonged to the school of Stephen Heller. He was born in Hungary, studied at Pesth, Vienna, and Paris, and was professor at the Geneva Conservatory in 1865. Author of many interesting piano pieces, and some vocal music. His compositions are light in character.