

A következő 2 oldal Bittelheim naplójának más által másolt kéziratból való. Megtudta, hogy a "Plymouth" amerikai
hadihajó személyzetében MAGYAROK vannak
és reméli, hogy lesz elég isteni kegyelem számára szülőföldje fiainak me-vigasztalására.

(Az öt kötetes kézirat Az öt kötetéből.)

1853 to be filled up, and thus took me in style to the flagship. The nice young man in charge of the boat told me, he had observed last Sunday I was a ~~Frenchman~~ ^{Frenchman} by birth, having used the word "explication" for "explanation". We had some ~~French~~ ^{French} talk upon this, and I told my friend, that according to analogy, I should say "explication" was as good English, as "explicable" and that I thought all adjectives in "cable" admitted of a substantive formation in "ation". On the same occasion I heard, there were some Hungarians on board ^{the} board

P

795

"Plymouth", enlisted I suppose, among the crews. This would be extraordinary treat indeed to see in Loochoo citizens of my native country, now expatriated because of their love of liberty. I should hope I shall have grace given me to cheer them and console them. For besides those who suffer for religion, is more worthy of the sympathy of a christian than those who suffer for their love to civil liberty. long as man can quickly submit to tyranny these app in them but a ~~weak~~ ^{weak} sense of responsibility