

IMRE E. BEKESSY
220 EAST 73RD STREET
NEW YORK CITY
BUTTERFIELD 8-1158

February 5, 1943

Dear Reverend Vasvari:

It is only today that I have received your books. They were forwarded from Washington, New York by the Post Office because we left Washington already Sunday noon.

Thank you ever so much for sending these books. You have done an excellent job. And the "Little flowers on the road" are so touching.

It is a pity, indeed, that you are not writing a book on Kossuth. Even your research on the Lincoln Heroes did reveal the fact that nobody in America possesses a more thorough knowledge of Kossuth's activities than you. As a matter of fact I did find more material in your book than in any other publication on the same subject.

I am going to make you a suggestion. What about writing such a Kossuth book in collaboration? As I have time enough and it

IMRE E. BEKESSY
220 EAST 73RD STREET
NEW YORK CITY
BUTTERFIELD 8-1158

2

is my business to write you would deliver the research material and I would do the writing. Of course we would first outline the whole book in a common effort and fix the angles, too.

My angle is to show Kossuth as a genius who came before his time. The time was not ripe for Kossuth neither in Europe nor in America.

I have no doubt that I shall find a publisher for such a book. I have a lot of connections in the publisher business and they are just waiting for a book of mine.

Even if you do not want to give your name for the book I would like to propose a fifty-fifty business if you were ready to put to my disposal your material and your knowledge. It would be a pity not to make money out of your unique Kossuth collection. Let me know, please, what do you think about my suggestion.

With best regards from both of us to both of you, I am

Cordially yours

1943

