

Bibory, S.L. de

Hungarian artist (painter) who in 1850 lived in Baltimore and rallied to the defense of the alleged Apollonia Jagello and painted an allegoric picture about her.

His letter in the Baltimore Patriot, May 8, 1851, reprinted with Bibory's additional remarks in Washington, D.C. "Metropolitan" weekly, April 17, 1852, Page 2 Col. 6-7

