

Csillag Rose
operavénés

AP4
L537

(The London Review, 1862 Febr. 1, p. 108)

"How strange is often the career of operatic singers! Advice from Perth informs us that Mme Rose Csillag is appear at the National Theatre of that Town, having commenced her vocation on the stage, as a chorus singer. She left the theatre at Perth, the sum of 40 florins a month being considered too high a salary for her services."

László Károlyi