

BODOR, Paul R., dr. *1907 + 1968 Sep. 13.
Dombrad Szabolcs M. Washington, D.C.

Paul R. Bodor, 61, Library Accountant

Dr. Paul P. Bodor, 61, an accountant with the central branch of the D.C. Public Library, died Friday at the Washington Hospital Center after a short illness. He lived at 1880 Columbia rd. nw.

Dr. Bodor was a native of Dombrad, Hungary and emigrated to the United States in 1956. He received a doctorate in agricultural economics from the University of Halle in Germany and for many years was a researcher in plant hybridization techniques in Hungary.

He lived for about a year in Bolivar, Mo., before moving to Washington when he joined the D.C. Library.

Dr. Bodor was a member of the Hungarian Reform Federation of America.

Survivors include his wife, Catherine; two sons, Paul, of Washington and Charles of New York; a daughter, Katalin, of New York; his mother, Irene, of New York; two sisters, Cornelia, of Arlington and Maria Gyulahazi, of Charleston, W. Va.; a brother, Andre, of Falls Church, and two grandchildren.

PAUL B. BODOR