Janos de Bobula Is Dead at 95

Janos de Bobula, who emigrated to the United States from her native Hungary in 1955, died last Friday in Gaffney, S.C. She was 95.

Mrs. De Bobula came to Washington from Budapest in 1955 to join her daughter, Ida Bobula, in Washington. She moved to South Carolina with her daughter in 1960.

Mrs. de Bobula's husband, who died in 1922, was a member of the permanent Congress of International Architects.

In addition to her daughter, Mrs. de Bobula is survived by five grandchildren, Mrs. J. Duff Reed III, of Washington; Janos de Bobula, of Cambridge, Mass.; Andrew de Bobula, presently traveling, and Istvan Zlinszky and Marletta Zlinszky, both of Budapest.
