

In 1952, at the triennial Convention of the Amer. Hungar. Federation (Willard Hotel)

the Rev. Julius Kiss, Rom. Cath. priest of Trenton, N.J. loudly + within hearing of several people, when he saw Borshy-Kerekes, yelled this:

"And this scoundrel, who pushed poor Louis <sup>to</sup> into his grave, has enough skin off his face to appear here!"
